NEFCU in Westbury was ranked among the top 5 credit unions in New York State in a recent Forbes magazine survey.

Forbes partnered with market research firm Statista to survey more than 25,000 consumers for its “America’s Best Credit Unions in Each State” list. Financial institutions were scored based on overall recommendations and satisfaction, as well as in five subcategories: trust, terms and conditions, branch services, digital services and financial advice.

NEFCU, which has 200,000 members and $3 billion in assets, placed third in New York in the Forbes ranking.

ESL Federal Credit Union in Rochester topped the list, followed by Hudson Valley Federal Credit Union in Poughkeepsie. AmeriCu in upstate Rome came in fourth, while Albany-based First New York Federal Credit Union rounded out the top 5.
